VI. Comments from the Executive Committee

A. Comments from the Chair, Wayne Reeves

1. Career Banding and Salary Pay Plan
Senator Reeves gave an update from his meeting with Chancellor Ballard and Vice Chancellor Seitz. Senator Reeves stated that the Career Banding process is an ongoing process and according to Human Resources they hope to have all positions banded by July 2008. Senator Reeves commented that the Administration is committed to fair and equitable salary planning for the staff. He reminded the Senate that the Career Banding initiative comes with out funding and that it is a departmental and supervisor responsibility to consider salary adjustments when they begin the budgetary planning process. Human Resources is working with the Vice Chancellors and or their divisional representatives in the analysis and planning process.

- Senator Marshall commented that there is a lot of misinformation being distributed about the Career Banding process both from one employee to another and from supervisors to employees.
- Associate Vice Chancellor Toller responded by reminding the Senate that the Career Banding process is a “salary neutral program” and encouraged all supervisors and employees in general to think creatively as they are looking at their budgets. The University’s budget process is an important element for the success of Career Banding in the long term. Career Banding gives units the flexibility to allocate salary resources, but this new flexibility must be integrated with a new approach to budgeting. This is not just a fiscal change, but a cultural change as well. Additionally, Supervisors need to be comfortable in discussing Career Banding such that employees have an accurate and comprehensive understanding of its design and capabilities. To assist with this, HR will be conducting training sessions early in the new year for supervisors and employees.

2. Employee Survey
Senator Reeves gave an update on the employee survey to gather feedback on modifying the UNC Campus Institution’s Personnel Management System. Senator Reeves stated that over 1200 employees responded to the survey and stated that on average other universities only had about 200 – 300 responses received. So he congratulated all senators on getting the word out to their constituents to complete the survey. Senator Reeves also stated that he is still in the process of reviewing and validating the data and once that is completed he will compile a report to give to Chancellor Ballard and the Staff Senate.

3. Senator Reeves reminded senators about the dynamic and changing times of the university and encouraged the senators to embrace these changes, listen, understand and act as a sounding board to help explain the changes to our co-workers. It is going to take all of us working together to continue to embrace the UNC Tomorrow initiatives. As a university we are going to have to change, adapt and move forward. As senators we need to explain, lead and guide conversations departmentally as well as university wide in order to be a spring board for change.

4. ECU Tomorrow
Senator Reeves held up the ECU Tomorrow: A Vision For Leadership and Service booklet that was mailed to all employees. He reminded senators that this is a map for ECU, providing us with a vision and directions for where we are going and how we are going to get there. He encouraged all senators to read it if they haven’t already done so. http://author.ecu.edu/cs-admin/chancellor/ecutomorrow.cfm

5. ECU Leadership Academy
Senator Reeves encouraged all senators to apply. This is a great opportunity for personal and professional growth and will benefit all senators. http://www.ecu.edu/chancellor/leadershipacademy.cfm

This committee was appointed by Provost Smith in April 2006.

Drawing membership from this committee, Provost Sheerer formed the University Sponsored Child Care Task Force and charged this group with responsibility for moving the university sponsored child care initiative forward. This task force includes:

The University Sponsored Child Care Task Force began meeting in October 2007. The task force met with representatives from Pitt County Memorial Hospital to discuss the hospital’s child care program. Ms. Jennifer Congleton, Administrative Employee Recognition and Retention Director for Pitt County Memorial Hospital, spoke with the task force about her role as liaison with the hospital’s child care program. Ms. Becky Scramlin, Director of A Child’s Place (Pitt County Memorial Hospital’s child care program), shared information about the design and operation of the hospital’s child care program. Mr. Nigel Birtwistle, Client Services Director for Bright Horizons, came to Greenville to speak to the committee on the child care program options available through his firm. Representative from the City of Greenville City Manager’s Office and from Pitt Community College have joined the task force for a number of these meetings.

Based on information gathered during these presentations in October and November, the task force is working closely with Mr. Scott Buck’s office to design a Request for Proposals. The task force has set mid-January 2008 as a target for completing and distributing a Request for Proposals.
